Our Cooks on TV

The Shed Cooking Class acquitted themselves very well in an segment of "the Living Room" that aired on Channel 10 last Friday 7th September. Kevin C was also there to show some of the non-cooking equipment available to potential new Shedders

While the segment on-air is only 5 minutes, the process took most of the day some weeks prior to the broadcast. Even our own "World renowned" cookbook got an airing.

You can watch the segment here, starting at 31:50 and the recipe is here. All in all a great advertisement for The Shed and it's diverse activities

The Extension Fit-out

The movement of equipment and parts from Building A to Building B continues apace. The floor is now gleaming, thanks to El Presidente and his team, under the watchful eye of Kevin C.

Additions to our equipment include an hydraulic press, which was moved into place by Council workers. A big thank you to Ku-ring-gai Council. A Shed BBQ on the 29th of July made use of the Multi Function Room, prior to completion of the wall cladding.

The Shed Creates Props for the Marian Street Theatre for the Young

The Shed was recently asked to build some wooden props for a Marian Street Theatre for the Young Production.

Malcolm, our theatre props and scenery guru, using designs provided by MSTYP, bought his team of Raymond and Chris together and created what you see above. We have also been asked to construct a PVC pipe-based change booth.

Raising the Flag on Flag Day

President Stephen Lloyd and a group of Monday volunteers who assembled to observe Australia's National Flag Raising Day on 3rd September.

A makeshift 6 metre flagpole was erected, complete with truck, pulley and halyard in order to fly the flag. Vexillologist, Bob Lions undertook the role of unfurling and raising the flag.

There was an acknowledgement of the Darramuragal People, their elders, past and present.

This patriotic activity, promoted by Federal Member Paul Fletcher, was well received by members of the Shed. More information on Australia's National Flag Raising Day is available here

Bendigo Community Bank Supporting Our Drought Affected Farmers

Please join Bendigo Community Bank in supporting our farmers who are struggling in this period of extended drought.

The bank have already matched, dollar for dollar, the first $3,000 donated and the fund has so far raised over $1.6,000. Please see here for Buy A Bale.

Interested in gaining Accreditation?

A training and accreditation workshop will be held on Friday 14th September 2018. Training and accreditation will be available for the following machines: Table saws; Sliding Compound Saw; Band-saws Drill Press and Sanders.

If you wish to participate please register by completing the form on the lunch table at The Shed.

Participants will be expected to have read the accreditation documentation and be at The Shed by 9:45 am for a 10:00 am start. The workshop is anticipated to complete around midday.

Member Profile – Raymond Howes

Starting out as an Architect, Raymond progressed to Project Management. This took him around the world, including projects in East Africa, where he worked for 6 years. Also

Indonesia and the construction of the Australian pavilion at the 1984 World Expo in New Orleans. He also lectured in Architectural Drafting at the NSW Institute of Technology

In parallel with his work, Raymond's love of musical instruments led him in 1989 to construct his first violin. Since that time he has crafted twenty Violins and Violas, and three harps.

Raymond joined the Shed in 2012 after retiring. Subsequently, he has continued construction of his instruments, as well as mentoring other Sheddies in this fine art. As a mark of his versatility, he also paints in oils and plays his beloved instruments in his church music group

Raymond enjoys coming to The Shed to work with fine timbers and the camaraderie of his fellow wood workers.

Who Turned The Lights Out?

We were left in the dark in more ways than one on Tuesday the 14th of August when a scheduled power outage we were not notified of plunged the Shed into darkness for the whole day.

While it was discussed to revert to traditional tools to re-live the past, there were no takers. So, we decided to use the BBQ to boil some water for a cuppa, with biscuits. All enjoyed the impromptu meeting and had an unplanned early mark.

Vale Roy Acreman

It is with regret that we announce the passing of Roy Acreman on the 1st of September 2018.

What's Cooking

An unusual sound enveloped this month's Cooking Class as soon as we sat down for each course....silence”!

It could be argued we had nothing to talk about or we'd run out of jokes or we were all just having a Seniors moment in our vacant box at the same time but none of these could be further from the truth. It was simply that the delivery of each plate consumed us all in a communal show of food appreciation. A joint effort in following Ruth's wonderfully spoken explanation of each recipe meant our taste buds were already working overtime before we were even seated. Thus, an insatiable appetite saw us all engrossed in eating and savouring every mouthful. Washing up was therefore easy as most plates had been licked clean!

So what made this month's meal so delectable? It was simply the combination of ingredients and how they were put together to create a mouth-watering meal . Words cannot do justice to the explosion of flavours each course delivered. Again, it is a testament to the invaluable contribution Ruth brings to The Shed.

Is it any wonder then that our Cooking Class continues to grow in popularity? Of course, class numbers are limited by our dining area but with the prospect of this area being expanded in the foreseeable future, we invite anyone who would like 'to give it a go' to contact Ruth Fulton or Sandy Lamb. We anticipate reviewing our capacity from February next year so please let yourselves be known NOW so we can accommodate those on a first in basis.
