The organising Committee and other Shed members of the Ku-ring-gai Community Workshop, "The Shed", welcome you all. We hope that you will enjoy the camaraderie and skills that you will see, and use, during your time spent at the shed. If you have any concerns, or needs, please approach one of the coordinators on your days of attendance. You will find that they will be only too happy to assist.

Subscriptions are Due

A friendly reminder is issued to all who haven't got around to paying their annual subscription. Whilst the Shed has suffered a shutdown up until recently, the fixed overheads naturally continue, so member's support in this regard is still vitally important.

PAST DUE

The Management Committee has taken every possible step to ensure the ongoing viability of the Shed, however the reliance on a healthy membership is all the more important.

Subscriptions of $75 can be paid at the Shed in cash or cheque, or otherwise by Electronic Funds Transfer via:

Be sure to quote your invoice number if you have it or identify the payment with your name so we know who you are.

The Things We Do

When a member of the public turned up with a sad story about a broken heirloom rocking horse, Mark R got to work to recreate the turned legs of the frame.

This included creating drawings of the originals to ensure the exact profile was reproduced.

Shown here is a very proud wood turner and the legs ready for staining and installation.

Robert C is making a candelabra from recycled materials including springs from a trailer and pre-loved timber.

It has a distinct gothic appeal.

Community Noticeboards for Turrumurra

The Turrumurra branch of the Bendigo Bank approached us to update two very tired noticeboards

The work entailed removing the old noticeboards, replacing one of them with a new noticeboard and repairing the other one, replacing the acrylic, removing and replacing rust affected parts and touching up with fresh paint.

Warren O, Graeme B and Rob L completed the installation of the new and refurbished noticeboards at Bendigo bank two weeks ago.

Sharon and Michele from Bendigo bank were both very pleased with the completed work.

Freshly Minted Life Savers

Nine Shedders completed First Aid Courses recently held at the Shed. Congratulations to you all

This allows us to increase the number of people we have available to be rostered on as First Aid Officers

They also provide a vital role in the safe use of Shed machines and PPE, as prevention is much preferred to treatment
