The Association shall not have more than 5 life members at any one time.

3 Application for membership

- (1) An application by a person for membership of the association:
  - (a) must be made in writing (including by email or other electronic means, if the Committee so determines) in the form determined by the Committee, and
  - (b) must be lodged (including by electronic means, if the Committee so determines) with the secretary of the association.
- (2) As soon as practicable after receiving an application for membership, the secretary must refer the application to the Committee, which is to determine whether to approve or to reject the application.
- (3) As soon as practicable after the Committee makes that determination, the secretary must:
  - (a) notify the applicant in writing (including by email or other electronic means, if the Committee so determines) that the Committee approved or rejected the application (whichever is applicable), and

- (2) If a member of the association ceases to be a member under subclause (1), and in every other case where a member ceases to hold membership, the secretary must make an appropriate entry in the register of members recording the date on which the member ceased to be a member.

7 Register of members

- (1) The secretary must establish and maintain a register of members of the association (whether in written or electronic form) specifying the name and postal, residential or email address of each person who is a member of the association together with the date on which the person became a member.
- (2) The register of members must be kept in New South Wales:

- (6) A member must not use information about a person obtained from the register to contact or send material to the person, other than for:
  - (a) the purposes of sending the person a newsletter, a notice in respect of a meeting or other event relating to the association or other material relating to the association, or

8 Fees and subscriptions

- (a) Members shall pay such fees as are determined by the Association at a general meeting. Different scales of fees may apply where there is more than one class of membership.

10 Resolution of Internal Disputes

- (1) Disputes between members (in their capacity as members) of the Association, and disputes between members and the Association, are to be dealt with in accordance with the following procedure:
- (2) The aggrieved party is to inform the secretary, in writing, of the nature of the complaint and the behaviour relied upon to support the grievance and the member of the Association against whom the grievance is held.
- (3) The president, or a vice president where the president is the person against whom the grievance is held, will investigate the grievance and in consultation with the aggrieved party may attempt to resolve the grievance. Where the grievance is against another member that member must be informed in writing of the complaint and given 7 days in which to submit in writing and be heard regarding their response to the complaint. All parties must meet, either together or by mediation of the president, or vice president as the case may be, with a view to achieving a genuine settlement of the grievance. Where a party fails to make a genuine attempt to resolve the matters in dispute, within six months, they will forfeit any rights to mediation outside the Association under sub-clause 2 below, and this failure may be relied upon by the Association in defending any action before the Courts.
- (4) The terms of settlement of the grievance must be reduced to writing and signed by all parties. If a partial settlement has been reached then the terms agreed and the terms remaining in dispute must be reduced to writing and signed by all parties.
- (5) The Committee may refuse to deal with a complaint if it considers the complaint to be trivial or vexatious in nature.
- (6) Where the whole or part of the dispute remains unresolved, after six months from date of notification to the secretary and, after all genuine attempts to reach settlement within the Association have proved unsuccessful, then the aggrieved party may refer the complaint to the Community Justices Centre for mediation in accordance with the Community Justice Centres Act 1983.
- (7) At least 7 days before a mediation session is to commence, the parties are to exchange statements of the issues that are in dispute between them and supply copies to the mediator.

  - (5) If the Committee expels or suspends a member, the secretary must, within 7 days after the action is taken, cause written notice to be given to the member of the action taken, of the reasons given by the Committee for having taken that action and of the member's right of appeal under clause 12.
  - (6) The expulsion or suspension does not take effect:
    - a) until the expiration of the period within which the member is entitled to appeal against the resolution concerned, or
